

SAROJINI NAIDU

THE NIGHTINGALE OF INDIA

PART I: THE POET'S ORIGINS

Exploring the early years and the literary genius that captivated the world before the heat of political battle.

ROOTS IN HYDERABAD

A GIFTED START

Born on February 13, 1879, in Hyderabad to a family of scholars. Her father was a scientist and her mother a poet. Sarojini was a child prodigy, mastering several languages and writing her first major poem at age 13.

She pursued higher studies at King's College London and Cambridge, where she refined her poetic voice.

LITERARY COLLECTIONS

GOLDEN THRESHOLD

Her first volume of poetry (1905) which established her as a leading voice in Indian literature.

BIRD OF TIME

Published in 1912, this collection reflects her deep connection to nature and Indian culture.

BROKEN WING

Published in 1917, exploring themes of love, death, and the burgeoning desire for liberty.

"A COUNTRY'S GREATNESS LIES IN ITS UNDYING IDEALS OF LOVE AND SACRIFICE THAT INSPIRE THE MOTHERS OF THE RACE."

— SAROJINI NAIDU

PART II: THE FREEDOM FIGHTER

How the Nightingale transitioned from her poetic world into the stormy center of the Indian Independence Movement.

MEETING THE MAHATMA

In 1914, Sarojini met Mahatma Gandhi in London. This encounter transformed her life.

Gandhi inspired her to dedicate her literary power to the freedom struggle. She became one of his most trusted lieutenants, often adding a touch of humor and poetic spirit to the rigorous movement.

HISTORIC PRESIDENCY

PRESIDENT OF INC

A MAJOR FIRST

In 1925, at the Cawnpore (Kanpur) session, she became the first Indian woman to serve as the President of the Indian National Congress.

This was a landmark moment for women in Indian politics, proving their capacity for top-tier leadership during the peak of the struggle.

THE SALT SATYAGRAHA

COURAGE AT DHARASANA

During the Dandi March (1930), she was one of the primary leaders. After Gandhi's arrest, she led the protest at the Dharasana Salt Works.

Despite brutal police intervention, she remained calm and fearless, showing the world the power of non-violence.
